

The Journey Song

“This song is born to this centre (Dilico Adult Treatment Centre). I had a place not too far from here. And I was sitting outside thinking about the clients’ journey through life, and I started thinking about my journey through life...my past, the present, and the future. And that is how this song was born to this centre. I’ve given this song to Dilico...for what Dilico stands for—to help...help people help each other. This is how this song goes...

I’ve come from my past.

This is me, standing here.

Help me move forward.”
